People may not have known the exact location of Luxembourg but they sure knew the way to the SoBo venue to attend the National Day of Luxembourg. But then they were there since they were invited by their dear friend Anil Dharker who is the Honorary Consul General of Luxembourg. The incessant rains were no dampener to the celebration that kicked off almost on schedule with Dharker seeing a similarity between the rains and sex, saying that both are necessary but not in excess! Also joining in the celebration and looking pleased as punch was Marc Courte, Ambassador, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, who merrily mingled with all the guests. Some fine wines from the region were doing the rounds and the cocktail chatter wafted in the air and almost touched the chandeliers of the heritage building. Seen and heard in the roomful of friends were Javed Ahmed, Charles Correa with wife Monica, Rohit Khosla who will soon be moving to Colombo, Kamlesh Hemdev, Zeba Kohli with hubby Rajesh and Gerson daCunha wearing his usual uniform of white kurta. And everyone enjoyed the delightful dinner crafted by Farokh Khambatta.

NORMAL, NOT FORMAL: The dress code specified formal but Bose Krishnamachari who is averse to wearing a suit and tie chose to wear a white jacket over a pair of blue jeans – just right for an art preview!
