

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

A young boy is seen from behind, paddling a yellow inflatable raft on a calm blue lake. He is wearing dark shorts and light-colored underwear. A red paddle is in his hands, and a splash of water is visible near the blade. The background shows a lush green forested shoreline under a clear sky. In the foreground, a portion of a green and black mesh net is visible, with a white sign featuring red and white stripes and a yellow circle.

Just like a real explorer, discover nature at its purist while having fun. Playing the part of a deep-sea mariner or a fresh water pirate ... putting in to port to sample some tasty delights, to regain energy. Then, at the end of the day, sleep comes to our tiny heroes. Luxembourg? Children love it!

In Luxembourg, priority is given to the preservation of nature in all its forms. Numerous activities enable children to get to know Mother Nature a little better, and to learn about the products of the soil and their culture. In Luxembourg, ecology begins at a very early age!

Luxembourg: appreciate the virtues of the soil, and savour nature.
